

SHERWOOD FARM

ENGLISH COUNTRY LIVING

Holiday Camp - Our ethos and beliefs

One thing that has been emphasized to me in recent years, as a teacher and also as a parent, is that there is an element of pressure and stress that the younger generations are feeling. In school, at home or even through the realms of online platforms, the children of today are exposed to more and more doubt, negativity and self-consciousness. Our Holiday Camps at Sherwood Farm aim to rid our visitors of these daily struggles and allow them to simply be kids and have fun!

If you are looking for English lessons in a classroom for your child during the school holidays then these camps are unfortunately not for you. Our positive and energetic attitude aims to make your child laugh, play, be confident and have fun. We will explore. We will challenge ourselves. We will try new things. We will experience nature. We will camp under the stars. The children will be immersed in the English language and will learn the language through the various daily tasks and challenges that they face.

Sherwood Farm is a family business. Lee will be responsible for the day to day running of the camps. Alice, a nurse and health and social manager will also be present during the camps. Our children will play a part throughout the whole camp experience. They will make your child feel welcome and form relationships with the guests.

Our views that children should be treated with respect and dignity, and should experience a positive, kind and healthy environment are non-negotiable views that must be shared by all connected with Sherwood Farm.

Sherwood Farm is not simply where the holiday camps take place – Sherwood Farm is our home. We want to make it clear that when a child comes to our camp, they are treated like family.

Our Holiday Camps are based around the following themes:

- Nature
- Health
- Fitness
- Sustainability
- Wellbeing
- Woodwork, Arts and Crafts
- Relaxation
- Survival
- Nutrition
- Adventure
- Positivity

What sets Sherwood Farm aside from other holiday camps is:

- Visitors are immersed in the English language through the activities on site
- Sherwood Farm promotes a healthy, self-sustainable way of thinking and living
- Sherwood Farm is an intimate, relaxed and calm family setting
- Participants are in smaller groups for a more personal experience
- The location – we reconnect with nature
- From 2022, we aim to have a range of farm animals on site, and the children will be encouraged to get up close and help learn how to care for and look after the animals

We genuinely can't wait to welcome you and your child to our home, and give them a unique experience here in Richelbach-Neunkirchen.
